

PERFORMANCE

About: Artscape is offering subsidized performance space for professional individual and self-employed musicians, with a $2500 credit towards event related costs.

When: Availability throughout January, February and March, 2023.

Where: 3 of Artscape's performance and event venues are participating. You can choose between the following:

- Artscape Weston Common
- Artscape Sandbox
- Artscape Daniels Launchpad

What you need to know:

- This opportunity is geared to individuals who have organized events and performances and understand the work that goes into doing this safely and effectively
- The rental fee for space and most equipment is being offered at a discount of 70%
- There will more than likely be fees above the $2,500 credit as there are hard costs associated with organizing a performance
- Artscape does not supply bar nor serving staff.
- You will be responsible for these and for obtaining the Special Occasions Permit, should you wish to serve/sell alcohol (Artscape does not charge a corkage fee on alcohol)

Costs to consider:

- Rentals (equipment, A/V)
- Staffing (staffing minimums do apply and depend entirely on what you're planning to do and which venue you wish to do it at) – venue supervisors are unionized, A/V technicians are unionized in some venues and cleaning/security will always be required
- General Liability Insurance for 2 million dollars required
- SOCAN

What you'll need to provide:

- Someone experienced with coordinating performances – both in advance and to supervise on the day of performance
- Stage manager for multiple performances in a single evening, or at the very least a strong tech lead
- Stage plots
- Information and payment per deadlines and according to contract
